Key Techniques for Metaverse

Submission Deadline: June 10, 2023

Brief introduction

Metaverse is a recently extremely hot topic and is thought to be going to permeate virtually every human activity. Indeed, the metauniverse is not a new concept. It is more like the rebirth of a classic concept, and it is the concept embodiment under new technologies such as extended reality (XR), blockchain, cloud computing, and digital twins. In this track, we aim to attract submissions of cutting-edge research from academia and industry, particularly those emphasizing theories, algorithms, techniques, that can generate breakthroughs for Metaverse research.
